The exhibition presents the history of the ironworks, Finland’s longest-standing iron manufacturing company, from the 14th century to the 1940’s.

The standing exhibition presents the work, living conditions and everyday life of ironworkers from the beginning of the 19th century to the present day.

The exhibition gives its audience a unique opportunity to step into the past of Fiskars and see what life was like in the late 19th century. The exhibition explains the processes of making iron, with demonstrations by artisans and craftsmen. The exhibition also tells the story of Fiskars’ role in the formation of a Finnish national identity.

The exhibition includes a number of fun and educational activities, including games, crafts and experiments, for all ages. Children can participate in a variety of hands-on activities, such as hammering, forging and welding, and learn about the art and science of ironmaking.

The exhibition also showcases a selection of Fiskars’ products from different eras, including early ironworking tools, family homes, and the evolution of the Fiskars logo.

The exhibition is open to the public every day of the year, except Christmas Day. Access is free of charge, and there is a small charge for some of the interactive activities. The exhibition is suitable for all ages and is a great destination for families and groups of all kinds.

For more information about the exhibition, please visit the Fiskars website at www.fiskars.org.

- Fiskars
- Exhibition
- Fiskars Museum
- Fiskars Village
- Conference center
- Restaurants
- Cafés
- Accommodation
- Workshops
- Events
- Shops
The history of Fiskars Village goes back all the way to the year 1649. The village has seen the manufacture of iron and the beating of copper; more than a million plows have been made here; the first orange-handled scissors saw the light of day in Fiskars Village, which has been part of the industrial and cultural history of Finland in many ways, shape and form.

Today, Fiskars Village, a center of Finnish arts and crafts renowned far beyond the country’s borders, is a unique place to live and visit. Being both home and workplace to more than a hundred creative people, the village offers inspiration to all who come here. Friends of art, culture and history as well as the outdoors all enjoy a visit to Fiskars Village. High quality conference, restaurant and accommodation services along with various shops and workshops offer visitors things to see and do all year round.

Spring brings the promise of summer, tempting you to give your home a makeover and to get out into the garden. In the shops you will find seedlings and other items for your garden, and at the Fiskars Wood Fair you can pick up new tools and inspiring ideas.

In the summer the village bursts with experiences. Exhibitions and events make visiting Fiskars Village a perfect day out for the whole family. The green natural beauty of the village, the people, sun and pleasure, that is what makes a Fiskars summer. Throughout which there is a program that ranges from the Fiskars Antique Happening to magic shows.

In Fall, harvest time fills the village with the riches of the woods and lakes. Pause for a moment to enjoy the smells and flavors of Fall at various culinary events. Gather strength and reserves for the winter by relaxing and enjoying nature. Winter clothes Fiskars Village in white while preparations for the holiday season give the place a special atmosphere. Fairytale landscapes, holiday events, shops and exhibitions that are open all year round await you!

Fiskars is located in southwest Finland 85 km from Helsinki.